Four College Students Gain Leads In High School-College Production

Hazel Smith, Thelma Stovall
Earl Jessee, Charles Haas
To Sing in "Pinafore"

Four college students have been given lead parts in H. M. S. Pinafore, the college and high school operetta.

Hazel Smith will sing the part of Josephine, the daughter of Captain Concoran, who is played by Earl Jessee. Charles Haas, will take the part of Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., who is in love with Josephine. Thelma Stovall will be little Buttercup, a plump and pleasing person.

The part of Dick Deadeye has not been assigned because none of the judges has been able to choose between the two contenders. Another tryout for it will be held as soon as possible.

Roger Hearn and Nada Smith, high school students, will sing Ralph Rackstraw, the hero, and Hebe, one of Sir Joseph's cousins (he has dozens).

A chorus of forty men and fifty women will be chosen from the glee clubs of both schools.

Musicians picked from the high school and college orchestras will play the Pinafore score. S. J. Mustol will direct the orchestra.

Work will begin in earnest immediately, according to Miss Myrtle Martin, who has charge of the operetta. She will be assisted by Miss Helen Macartney and Mrs. Francis Beeson.

Joy Wilson To Lead A.W.S. Coming Term

Joy Wilson will lead the Associated Women Students this semester as a result of a late election held after assembly February 29. Margaret Glenn and Alice Prather were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

That the women must take the men to the Leap Year dance to be given under the auspices of the A. W. S. was also a decision made. This includes making dates, tickets, furnishing transportation, and making out dance programs.

Beach Party Looms For Sophomore Class

Plans for a beach party or a steak bake were the main subjects of discussion in the sophomore class meeting held before the assembly, Wednesday, Feb. 29.

John Fitz, president, said that as soon as the bills for Algal pictures ceased to keep everyone broke, there might be some chance for several sophomore sprees.

Result of Penny Drive Announced

The winning team has a treat in the expense of the losing one in store for it the expense of the losing one. However, it has not as yet been decided what this is to be.

Lois Allen, Mrs. Marie Beisel, Catherine Best, Curtis Bowman, Roscoe Bradberry, Mydas Capps, Eber Flaus, and Elizabeth Mateer were in team one.

Ed Riniker, Thelma Morehouse, Theodora Mueller, Calvert Norland, Helen O'Brien, Justina Palmer, Grace Pritchard and Eleanor Turner were in team two.

A high school play and vocal solo are to be the main features of today's assembly to be presented in the high school auditorium at 1:00 o'clock.

Three members of the high school drama class are to appear in "Hardy Perenials," a comic one act play. The cast includes Clara Kate Owens, Alice Majors and Joe Warner.

Sally Lee Scales, Santa Ana soloist will offer a vocal solo.

Monograms will be awarded to the eight basketball men, Merl Youel, Faris Edgar, Bill Allee, Willard White, Blanchard Beatty, Lawrence Hogue, Spencer Stewart and Floyd Morton.

Religions is Topic Of Discussion Group

Getting acquainted with the religions of the world is the present object of the Friday discussion club at which a steadily growing group is hearing reports on the religions of other peoples and comparing them with Christianity.

Last Friday Dwain Tarbet gave a report on Buddahism, which made possible a discussion of the relative merits of Buddahism and Christianity.

Future reports will be on Mohammedanism, by Alice Prather, confucianism, by Mydas Capps, and atheism by John Minter.

The discussions are held every Friday at 1 o'clock in room 201, under the sponsorship of the Y. M. and Y. W. They are open to all college students.

Less Jazz Decrees Board of Control

That the junior college should have no more than two jazz assemblies each semester was the decision of the members of the board of control when they met last Monday in the student offices.

It was also decided that the matter of paying for meals of the track men be left to the discretion of the track coach.

The board moved to award monograms to eight basketball men.

Y Women Turn Lolly-pop Venders

Lolly-pops! Five cents a piece. Have you bought yours?

Today under the direction of Katherine Best a lolly-pop sale is being conducted under the auspices of the Y. W. The purpose is to earn money for the Asilomar delegation.

The campus Y. W. will entertain on March 12, Miss Helen Price, who is field secretary for the Western Division of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Price each year visits the various clubs, and this year her visit with S. A. is being planned so it will be beneficial to all who are interested. Miss Price will speak to the Y. W. women on the evening of March 12 in the hut.

Miss Betty Cooper, well known to many of the girls has been secured to speak at the annual Asilomar banquet. Mydas Capps announced that the banquet will be held March 19, at the Congregational church.

Elaborate plans are being made, since women from the Y. W.'s of the Glendale, Riverside, Pasadena junior colleges will be bidden to the affair. Tickets will be on sale at fifty cents.

Y Men Brave Rain For Supper, Lecture

Despite the rain twenty-five men turned out to the Y meeting Monday night, to enjoy the two-bit supper, good fellowship, and to hear Dr. Burlingame of the First Baptist church speak on "Paste-Board or Leather?"

Don Debaters Lose To Long Beach 2-1

Chance for League Title Lost;
Cherry and Dugan Win
Fullerton Contest

Santa Ana's chances at the Southern California junior college debating title were lost in the second round of the coast league contest held with Long Beach here, March 2, when a two to one decision was made in favor of the beach visiting students.

James E. Walker and Edwin Gerhardt upheld the affirmative of the question whether or not a nation with an advanced civilization is justified in forcing its civilization on an inferior people. Santa Ana stood second in the league before this meet.

Santa Ana's second pair of debaters, however, was victorious in the clash with Fullerton the same night, winning by a two to one decision. Thelma Dugan and David Cherry upheld the negative of the question at Fullerton.

Gerhardt and Morris Nominated for Head

Edwin Gerhardt and Leonard Moms were named as candidates for second semester freshman class president at last Wednesday's meeting. Lynn Hafer, Eleanor Turner, were nominated for the vice-presidency, and Margaret Glenn, Joy Wilson and Rthuh Tantlinger were nominated for secretary-treasurer. Elections will be held at a freshman class to be called this week.

President Jack Taylor took charge of the meeting reminding all freshmen to pay their dues so as to erase the deficit in the freshman treasury.

Stanford Prof to Advise Applicants

Dr. Walter C. Eells, associate professor of education at Stanford university and an authority of junior college work, will meet Friday afternoon by appointments any students who wish to attend Stanford.

As a personal representative of the university, Dr. Eells, will give advice and information regarding applications.

Appointments to meet Dr. Eells are to be made with Miss Carol Erskine, office secretary.

Students who wish to take the Stanford aptitude examination will be excused from classes Friday morning, when the test will be given from 8 to 11 a. m. in the junior college building.

The test is the same as the Thorndike examination and is not necessary if the latter examination has been taken. It is advisable, however, for students who seriously consider Stanford to take it. The fee is five dollars.

Plays, Dances, and Carnival Are High-spots of Six Day Program

Gaily colored banners, awnings, and umbrellas, enchanting music, gracious senoritas and dons will add color and brilliance to the college campus when the Spanish fiesta is held during the week of April 30 to May 5.

Elaborate plans for the staging of the fiesta were tentatively laid Thursday night when the faculty and student committees met in joint meeting to discuss the affair.

Separate programs will be presented on each day of the week culminating May 5 when a grand costume ball for junior college students and alumni will be given. Monday will be given over to entertaining the parents of junior college students, Tuesday to a carnival open to the general public, Wednesday to the annual play or operetta, Thursday to the local Dons, and Friday to the seniors of county high schools.

The construction committee is planning to raise awnings and decorative umbrellas over the northeast corner of the lawn and to produce a garden effect for entertaining the parents at tea on Monday and the seniors at luncheon on Friday. Concession booths and side shows will be constructed on the lawn in front of the Y-Hut for the Tuesday night carnival. A temporary lighting system will be wired for the concession. An outdoor dance will be held on the tennis courts in conjunction with the carnival.

On Monday the assembly for the parents will include the best numbers which have been presented at this year's assemblies.

Rehearsal Method In Use for "Shrew"

A system of rehearsals, known as the French method, is to be worked out in rehearsing for the "Taming of the Shrew," according to E. C. Phillips, director.

This method saves a great deal of time, because only those who are on the stage together in a group are required to rehearse at one time, instead of having a number of people waiting for their entrances of the whole scene as it is written.

Library is Closed On Saturday Now

Because of so very few students make use of the college library it will not be open on Saturdays.

Until February 17, the library was open from 8 a. m. until 12 a. m. every Saturday. Miss Lillian Dickson, head librarian, stated that the library would be open if a sufficient number of students requests it.

Campus Courtesy

Campus courtesy! What is it?

Greeting teachers, friends, and fellow students cheerily—because you have to—because you really mean it—for appearance?

Reciting without bluffs—just to see how it works—because you studied once?

Conduct in the halls—loud in order to attract attention—quiet and orderly in order not to disturb classes or students trying to study in the library?

Need for Cooperation

Thus far S. A. college and poly high have kept themselves two distinctly separate institutions even though they use the same buildings. But now is a time when cooperation is quite necessary.

Neither school has the voices to present the operetta "Pinafore" but together they can hardly fail to make a success of it as long as the spirit of cooperation holds sway. "Pinafore" will be just as much the college's operetta as the high school's.

While some people think the schools should be independent of each other, it seems to us that this is one exception to the rule.

Student Comment

Some time ago there was quite a disturbance among the student body about the dating problem. The men were accused of not holding up their end of the job by dating the co-eds, for some unknown reason. They, in turn, came back with a vigorous denial and several comments on the attitude of the feminine members of the school. Somehow the matter blew over and nothing has been said about it lately.

Now comes a new phase of the question. According to the reports from the A. W. S. meeting the women are to be hosts at a dance on March 17 and ask for the dates. It is bound to be an interesting experiment in view of the facts of the case.

The women have a chance to beat the men at their own game. Whether they will live up to the opportunity is a matter to be decided on the 17th. In my opinion the women are going to settle this dating problem right here and now. After this event the men will have no excuse.

More power to you.

"Did you call Edith up this morning?"

"Yes, but she wasn't down."

"But why didn't you call her down?"

"Because she wasn't up."

"Then call her up now and call her down for not being down when you called her up."

Our beloved Dean: "Waiter, half an hour ago I ordered some lamb chops. Have you forgotten them or have I had them?"

Lawrence: "What's the matter with your finger, Jack?"

Jack: "Reckless driving."

Lawrence: "Hudson."

Jack: "No, nail."

Daddy (just finishing a long talk and stern rebuke): "Now do you understand what I say?"

Daughter (very small and modest Miss): "Will you broadcast it again, Daddy? I haven't quite got your wave length."

As the day before is Sunday,
I never have my lessons on Monday,
Therefore, I am tired and blue on Tuesday,
Worried and nervous on Wednesday,
Discouraged and homesick on Thursday,
Gland to throw books and quit on Friday,
And thereby waste the whole day Saturday.

Then the week behind me I must lay,
Another Sunday to rest and play,
Which spoils the week ahead in the same old way.

Spring is Come

March, the first month of spring. An affliction sweeps as an epidemic through the student body and its symptoms are unmistakable.

Suddenly we notice that the campus is sprinkled with dandelions. We have a strong disinclination to do anything useful. We are unusually restless during classes, unable to concentrate in the library, and urge to get out of doors.

The tennis courts become more and more popular than ever. Books and assignments seem such dull things. When it comes to studying, we just naturally "don't wanna". June seems so far away!

But its only spring fever, and harmless, unless, of course you are one of the unfortunates who have it from September until June.

THE IDEAL GIRL

The ideal girl is five feet two
So like the Bulpitt girls,
Her hair like Helen Allen's just
Demurely fluffs and curls.
Her sparkling eyes, like Mary Jane's
Entrance all those about;
Her velvet-like complexion is
Justina's there's no doubt.
Her sunny smile, like Katy Best's,
Shows flashing, pearly rows,
While Betty Finch completes the maid,

She has her classic nose.
The ideal girl has all of these,
She's also blessed with wit.
Like Bobbie Isch, she conquers all,
Her middle name is "It".

Toreador

Up betimes and off for school, but late again for an eight o'clock. There's nothing worse than an eight o'clock class unless its a 9, 10, 11, 12, 1, 2, 3, or 4 o'clock. College wouldn't be half bad if it weren't for classes.

School doesn't hold many alluring charms these days—not even the type that loiter in the halls; this ideal weather is too inducive of spring fever. Picture lying out in the sun, getting that tan, with the ocean right there, a hot dog, with lots of mustard, in your hand! March, April, May, June!

Well, here's your chance to go to a dance with that suppressed desire. The Leap Year hop—should be the big affair what wit' singing, wit' dancing, wit' warsity dragging, wit' jazzing erround.

Have you been out on the track to see the men do their stuff? Or on the hockey field to watch the women. There are big things going on around this institution if you know where to find them.

English-as isn't

We'll begin with box, the plural is boxes; but the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes. One foul is a goose, but two are called geese, yet the plural of mouse should never be meese. You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of mice but the plural of house is houses, not hice.

If the plural of man is always men, why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen? The cow in the plural may be called cows or kine; but a bow if repeated is never called bine. And the plural of vow is vows, never vine.

If I speak of a foot and you show me two feet, and I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet? If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth, why shouldn't the plural of booth be called beeth? If the singular this and the plural is these, should the plural of kiss be called keese? Then one may be that and two would be those, yet hat in the plural would never be hose. And the plural of cat is cats, not cose.

We speak of brother and of brethren, but then we say mother, we never say methern. Then the masculine pronouns are he, his, and him, but imagine the feminine, she, shis, and shim! So the English I think you will all agree, is the funniest language you ever did see.

—Typosium

Vagrant Thoughts

Tennis—white forms—flashing—warm sun—contrast in—dancing classes—one—day—men and women—learning popular steps—next day—women practicing—age old—natural dancing—a kaleidoscope of colors—hot days—sleeveless dresses—noisy groups—several boys—teasing—one girl—feigned anger—really pleased—old, story.

The one o'clock dancing class needs support. Come over and learn what the ideal college man does to the latest tunes. You'll be surrounded.

Arthur Hackett-Granville Scheduled To Sing in High School Friday Night

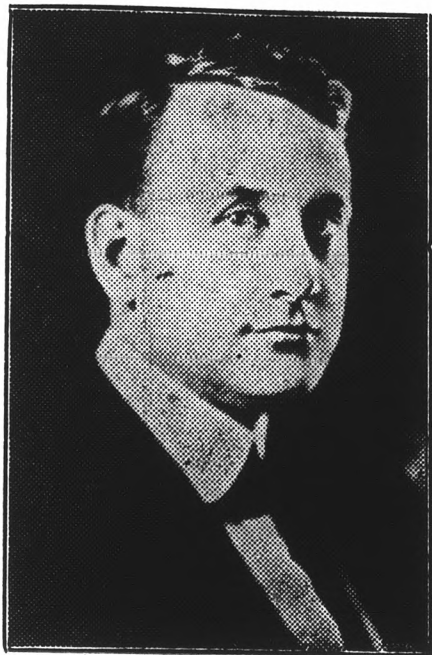

Tickets Are on Sale at The Santa Ana Book Store

Arthur Hackett-Granville, one of America's foremost tenors, is to be heard in concert at the Santa Ana high school auditorium, Friday, Mar. 9, as the second event of the International Artist series, sponsored by the Ebell club.

When returning to America last spring after your years as leading tenor with the Paris opera, Granville was immediately engaged for the role "Aetholwold" in the special company of Deemis Taylor's all American opera, "The King's Henchman."

This is the opera for which the Metropolitan company commissioned Deemis Taylor to compose the music, and Edna St. Vincent Millay the libretto, with the idea of creating the American opera, written by Americans, and sung in English, with the principals being great American artists.

Reservations for the Hackett-Granville concert began at the Santa Ana book store, Monday March 5.

Many Students Early Decide on Life's Work

Dr. Lewis A. Maverick, recorder at the University of California at Los Angeles, recently made a survey of the students attending the state institution and found that 85 per cent of those enrolled had determined upon their life work and were pursuing their studies with clear-cut purpose. Of this group nearly every individual had decided his vocation before entering the university, indicating, according to the recorder, the importance of competent guidance in the high schools and junior colleges from which these students come.

Season tickets for this and the last number of the course, the London String Quartette, have been reduced to $1.50 for students and $3.00 for adults. Single admission to each concert is $2.00.

Fullerton Holds Art Conference

The second convention of the Intercollegiate Fellowship of Creative Art met at Fullerton recently. Plans were made for publishing the book of verse which will contain contributions from a number of different colleges in the state.

At Thursday's meeting the following officers were elected: president, Fullerton; vice-president, Pomona; executive secretary, Whittier college. The individuals are Robert Erwin, president and Mildred Jean Stewart, secretary. The secretary will be editor of the publication.

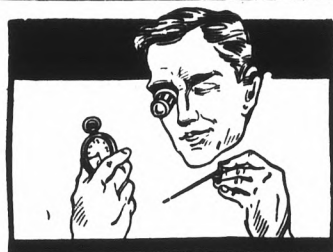

The following schools have signified either written or verbal interest in the organization: Sacramento J. C., Santa Rosa J. C., San Mateo J. C., Fresno State College, Santa Ana J. C., Pomona J. C., Whittier college, Occidental college, Chaffey J. C., Modesta J. C., and J. C. Financial complications have been laid aside and all that remains at the present time will be for each school to send its contributions to Mildred Jean Stewart, Whittier college, Whittier, Calif.

The book has been named the Blade and will contain 64 pages, the space in the book to be evenly distributed to contributing schools.

Fifteen students of the San Bernardino valley junior college have made grades entitling them to membership in the Honor Society of the school. After leaving the junior college these first two years of honor credit will be recognized by the Beta Kappa of any of the four year institutions.

With some 135 students nineteen years of age and 120 listed as twenty the average age for San Mateo junior college students is higher by one year than it was last semester.

Only twenty students are under eighteen years of age, while some 150 are over twenty-one.

Musical Notes

Arthur Hackett-Granville will sing in the high school auditorium March 9, Thursday and Friday. Hackett-Granville will sing as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra. He has been on an extended concert tour of three years in Europe, and from all reports his tour has been a decided success

United States has plenty of money for prizes in every branch. There is no nation so liberal; so no wonder the prizes attract foreign talent. Twenty thousand dollars is being offered for the completion of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony". One can hardly imagine that everyone will be able to compare a fitting climax for Schubert's immortal symphony.

A pretty girl once played before Liszt, choosing a ballad form Chopin, which she rendered in a very amateurish way. Liszt walked up and down the room excitedly murmuring: "Heilger Bimbam! Heilger Bimbam!" (the equivalent, apparently, of "Great Scott!"). But when she had finished, he went up to her in a most friendly manner, laid his hand upon her head, as if in benediction, and said gently: "My child marry soon. Goodbye!" —Pathfinder.

Thelma Dugan Named in Sensational Episode

"Do you think I would swipe that old cement mixer of Mr. Stewart's to take Miss Dugan up to Compton in?" demanded David Cherry with righteous indignation shooting forth from his eyes.

"No! Mr. Stein is the thief, and Mr. Gerhardt is a—"

Gerhardt sprang to his feet in a menacing let-me-at-him attitude.

"Well, I won't say what, but—" and Cherry clearly looked his meaning.

Just what aroused all the fireworks? To begin with, it all happened in the public speaking class when budding orators were giving their circumstantial evidence speeches.

Eddie Gerhardt was the match. He got up to prove that David Cherry had stolen Prof. Stewart's car to take Miss Thelma Dugan to a debate in Compton on February 23.

In part his evidence consisted of the fact that one of Cherry's books had been found in Stewart's car and one of Stewart's books in Cherry's locker.

Furthermore Arthur Stein testified that on February 23 he had been in Compton "for reasons best known to himself;" that he had been shaken to his knees by a feeling like an earthquake and nearly frightened to death by a sound like a cement mixer coming down the street, that when this terrible disturbance passed him, he saw that it was a Willys-Knight with a S. A. J. C. sticker on the wind shield, and that in the front seat were Miss Dugan and Cherry. And that is what set David Cherry off!

DON SPORTS

College Baseball Season Opens

Don Basketters Close Colorful Season; Trounce Menlo 60-43

Coach Scott Uses Second String Men When Score Runs Up To 23-0 in First Half

The Don basketters closed a colorful and successful basketball season by defeating Menlo Park junior college 60 to 43, in Andrews gymnasium Friday night.

During the first half the contest seemed to be a track meet in reality, the Dons running up a total of 23 digits before the Menlo squad could find the loop. Every player on the local squad was finding the basket with ease, some of the shots being made from the center of the court with consistency.

Edgar was high point man for the Dons, running up a total of 20 points. Mearl Youel came second with 15, Captain Bill Allee totaled 13 and Blanchard Beatty contributed 10.

The Dons took such a lead in the first half that Coach Scott, in order to make the contest more interesting sent in his second string. This gave the Menlo Park squad an opportunity

S. A. J. C. Host At Next League Meet

Saturday the Santa Ana track team will be host to the Glendale cinder-men in the third league track meet of the season. According to the meager reports available, Glendale has a strong team this year. However, the Dons are still training faithfully and should make a better showing this meet than in the Pasadena meet of two weeks ago.

Guyer, Hind, and Martin will of course do their usual stuff and Coach Cook has several other men who are improving right along in several other events. "Pete" Twist is rapidly getting into shape and there are others who are doing well in the field events.

There are still many places on the team to be filled and Coach Cook is anxious to get hold of some more men who can do something either in track or field events or both.

(Continued from page 1) Shrew" and the operetta "Pinafore" will be presented alternately on Wednesday and Friday nights. Invitations are to be sent to the county high school seniors to attend the fiesta on Friday when a full program will be offered for their entertainment. An opening assembly, representative college classes, luncheon, and athletic events will be included in the program.

College students will be expected to dress in typical Spanish costume and enter into the spirit of the week. All people visiting the campus will be considered guests of the junior college students.

Members of the faculty committee are Mr. Glenn chairman, Miss Donaldson, Mr. Fisk, Mr. Hull, and Mr.

to find their stride; they soon availed themselves of the chance and during one time were but ten points in the rear.

Sophomore Co-eds Take Hockey Game

The result of a fast game between the sophomore Red-hots and Plank's Bullets which was played last Wednesday afternoon, was 2-0 in favor of the Red-Hots.

Both goals were boxed in the first half by Juanita James and Frances Reed.

The Bullets perked up in the second half and held the Red-Hots down with their asbestos efforts.

Alice Prather, Mary Jane Owens, and Judy Cummings played exceptionally well, although neither team lacked fighting spirit.

San Bernardino J. C. Opens Gym for Work

Regular gym work will get under way for the first time at the San Bernardino valley junior college. The new gym has just been completed and equipped. Many of the girls' classes will be exceptionally small, some having only five members due to the general conflict of programs. Mrs. Howard Glass, former instructress in the high school and well known dancing teacher has been secured to coach the girls, Coach Arthur Schafer will continue his work with the men students.

The annual Association Tennis tournament will be held at Fullerton Saturday, June 2, 1928. In this as in other sports the two winners of the Western Division will meet the first and second place winners of the Eastern Division to decide the winners of the Conference.

Holmes. Members of the student committee are John Fitz chairman, Virginia Powell, Lawrence Minge and Eleanor Turner.

Nine Candidates Report at Official Opening of College Baseball Season

Compton Track Meet Postponed to Mar. 14

The track meet with Compton, scheduled to be held there last Saturday was postponed on account of rain. At a meeting yesterday of the conference commissioner and coaches it was decided to hold it a week from today at Compton. It is hoped that by that time more candidates will be out for the track team so that Santa Ana will be able to make a good showing.

With the first track meet the 25th, the Panthers are settling down to rigid training. The squad will be handicapped by the loss of Ernie Payne, captain and conference record holder in the low hurdles, who is out of the running because of doctors orders. Irving Ruhle, who holds the high hurdle record, is showing up good and should be able to place in both high and low sticks.

Mrs. Julia Hyde, office secretary at Julia Lathrop, has joined the junior college drama class. Mrs. Hyde took the part of the aunt in the last Community Player's play.

Graduation Takes Lettermen; Gap to be Filled by New Material

The junior college baseball season was officially opened Monday afternoon. Suits were issued to nine of the college men in spite of the rainy weather, which kept more candidates from coming out.

Eight of the players were graduated, leaving a large gap to be filled by inexperienced men. No lettermen from last year were present.

Many more candidates are expected out this afternoon, when the first active practice of the season will start.

Coach Clyde Cook has ordered a large quantity of new equipment so that every candidate may be assured a complete uniform.

No practice was held yesterday afternoon because of the mud on the field.
